

CBORD and GoPrint announce expanded partnership for network printing management

Agreement brings simplified print management to Odyssey PCS and CS Gold users

Friday, May 25, 2007

Ithaca, New York: The CBORD Group, Inc., the leading provider of campus card and access control solutions, and GoPrint Systems, Inc., the leading provider of multiplatform print cost recovery and network print management solutions for libraries, colleges, and universities, today announced an expansion to the companies' existing partnership. Already a CBORD® Campus Elements™ partner for its powerful interface with CBORD's Odyssey PCS™ campus card software, GoPrint® will now also interface with the CS Gold® campus card system.

Under the agreement, GoPrint's GS-4 pay-for-print management solution will allow schools using CS Gold to process payment for printing and copying via campus card accounts. This valuable offering improves student services by increasing the number of locations at which cards may be used, and provides university IT departments the freedom to effectively manage network printing costs.

"We are pleased to enhance our relationship with GoPrint and offer our CS Gold users this valuable service," says Randy Eckels, Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing, The CBORD Group, Inc. "We strive to partner with best-of-breed companies to support our customers in improving student services, and our partnership with GoPrint is an excellent means to this end."

"We are very excited about this significant expansion of our relationship with CBORD, and specifically to now be able to offer CBORD's CS Gold customers our GoPrint multiplatform print cost recovery system," says Steve Haber, President, GoPrint Systems, Inc. "Furthering our partnership with the leading provider of campus card payment and access control solutions is a great compliment for GoPrint and an opportunity to forge an even closer integration of services in the future."
